

Adventures on Bubbles. By Harry

Once there was a girl who was walking along the sea shore. She was very sad because she did not know what to do. Suddenly she stepped on something she was very curious. So, she picked it up and curiously opened it. It seemed as if it was a bottle of bubbles. She picked up the bubble wand. When the sun rose, she blew bubbles and she sat down on one bubble drifting and floating in the air. Excitedly, she jumped onto another bubble and gently, blew more. She was having so much fun. Suddenly, she had arrived at the moon.

She had never been on the moon before. Excitedly, she hopped around feeling both happy and a little bit nervous. There were friendly aliens and giant craters. She was a little bit lonely so she was going to go to go to the amazon rainforest. To help her one of the friendly aliens called blob bloop gave her a map to go to different places. So off she went blowing more bubbles and jumping on them.

Later that day, she had arrived at the amazon rainforest. She couldn't even see the ground because it was covered in trees. She saw sloths, river dolphins, poison dart frogs, giant anteaters, capybara and toucans and a lot of other animals and plants. It was time to go home eventually she arrived back.

Sneakily, she peered at a sad girl hoping to cheer her up. Carefully, she jumped down the bubbles. She put the bottle down and hid behind a rock. The girl happily blew the bubbles and the other girl watched her having fun. The end.
