

Marvellous Magnets

By Frank

A bit about magnets

Magnets are always trying to go North. North and South create a magnetic field South and South or North and North don't attract, they propel away from each other.

Electric fields can turn in to a magnetic field by movement.

